

How To Make A Candy Christmas Wreath

By
Jill Cooper

Visit us on the Web!
www.LivingOnADime.com

E-mail
editor@livingonadime.com

Copyright 2008

All rights reserved
Kellam Media and Publishing Inc. © 2008

If you are receiving this as an electronically transmitted file, it does not entitle you permission to give away copies without permission. The file is not to be sent electronically to anyone else other than the purchaser. You have purchased one copy of this file and its use is limited to your own personal use. Distributing copies to people who have not paid for them is illegal under international copyright laws and will subject you to possible legal action.

Exodus 20:15

The author and publisher specifically disclaim any liability, loss or risk, personal or otherwise which is incurred as a consequence, directly or indirectly, of the use and application of any of the contents of this book.

Candy Christmas Wreath

I know you all probably think I have gotten my holidays confused because it is the week before Halloween and here I am talking about Christmas but bear with me. There is a method to my madness!

Each year on the day after Halloween, I go and buy candy that is marked down to half price to use to make my Candy Christmas Wreaths. I am telling you about it now so you won't miss out on the opportunity to get candy for less to make these great gifts.

Since I was little we have hung a candy wreath on our door. When someone came to visit, they could cut a piece of candy from the wreath to take with them when they arrived or left. Kids and adults alike love this tradition.

Some years I have tried to have mine done before Thanksgiving. That way, when we get together on Thanksgiving Day, as a small gift, I give each one of my grown children one to hang on their doors.

I hang mine up the day after Thanksgiving along with the rest of my Christmas decorations. If you are going to a friend's house for Thanksgiving, this is a great and very different hostess gift to bring.

These also make great gifts for those hard to buy for people on your gift list or for those occasions when you have to buy for a whole family but aren't quite sure what to get for each member. It also saves you money because you aren't having to buy individual gifts.

Another added benefit is that you can make them early in November and give them out by the end of the month. This means that by the first week of December, you can have some of your gifts totally taken care of. Oh -- no wrapping necessary either!

These wreaths are very simple to make and something the kids can easily do. You'll find complete instructions on what to buy and how to make them below.

Don't forget to get candy for your other Christmas recipes during the after Halloween sales. Be creative! I was supposed to use Hershey's candy bars in my fudge, but when my daughter found a ton of Hershey's kisses for 50 cents a bag, I used those instead.

How to Make a Candy Wreath

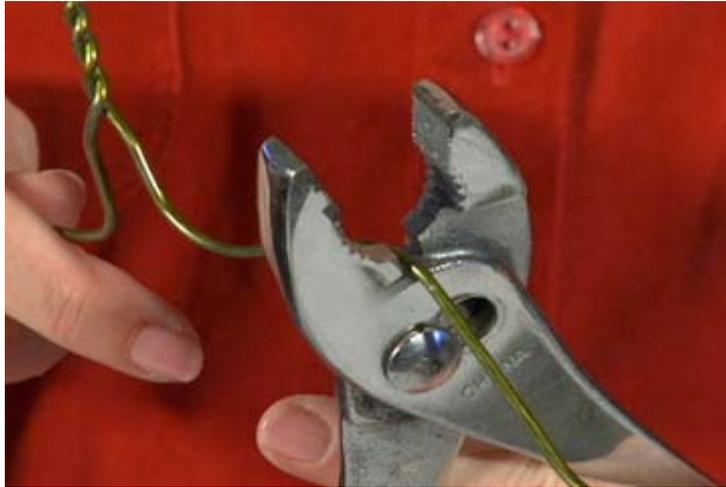

1. First, buy your candy. You need to use wrapped candy like Tootsie Rolls, Jolly Ranchers, peppermints, bubble gum, butterscotch candies, etc. How much candy you need depends on the size of wreath you make. Usually for a 12 to 15 inch wreath, I buy enough candy to fill a large mixing bowl to the top.

I make mine with lots of mixed candy but you can make it with all peppermints, all green and red Jolly Ranchers, or whatever you like. Whatever you decide, first place it all into a large mixing bowl.

2. Cut string into about 3 inch pieces. The lengths don't have to be exact. Just make them long enough so that they are easy to handle while you tie them around the ends of the candy and then to the ring for the wreath. You need one string for each piece of candy. I don't sit and count how many I need. I just cut a pile and then make more when I need them. I wrap the string around a VHS box and cut on both sides to get a good length.

3. Take a heavy wire clothes hanger and form it into the size wreath you would like. Cut off the hook part at the top.

Then slightly bend the 2 ends to form small hooks that you can hook together to make a circle. I haven't checked lately but you might be able to buy a metal circle in the wreath section at your craft store.

4. After you have made your ring, tie each string to one end of a piece of candy. This is why candy like Tootsie Rolls work so well. The little flags of paper on each end make it easy to tie the string to them. Then tie the other end to the wreath ring. Keep pushing the candy together as you go so you have a nice full ring of candy.

5. When you can't squeeze one more piece of candy onto the wreath, make or buy a large red bow to place at the top, which will cover the section where you hooked it together.

6. Tie one end of a ribbon or string to a child's pair of scissors and then tie the other end to the bottom of the wreath. This pair of scissors is for people to use to cut their own candy.

As you can see this is an easy project for kids. I mean what kid wouldn't love to handle mounds of candy, especially if they get to sneak a piece every once in awhile?

Hang it on your door. Adults and children alike love cutting a piece when they are coming or going or both!

To see a video version of this “how-to” article, check out “How To Make a Candy Christmas Wreath” at

<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=bvaRCEwZTm4>

From Our Inbox:

I made the candy wreath for my front door for Christmas. I made a little sign and hung on the bow...it read....

Friends and Neighbors all draw near
For a bit of Christmas cheer
Take the scissors, give a snip
Then enjoy a candy nip

Thanks for the original idea of the wreath...it made a hit with the neighbors!!

Would you like to learn how to save over $7000 in one year?

Simply go to www.LivingOnADime.com and sign up for the free weekly newsletter.

You'll receive valuable money-saving tips that work, from the authors of this book.

Tawra Kellam and Jill Cooper are a mother daughter team who learned to live in difficult financial circumstances at a time in life when money was always in short supply. Living in a situation where they had to choose between one necessity and another really helped them gain a new perspective about the value of things. It also helped them make distinctions between needs and desires. Their goal is to educate people about better ways to handle money in the hope that the people they touch can live more fulfilled and less stressful lives.

For over 20 years, Tawra Kellam has lived the frugal lifestyle. Her mother's determination to persevere through extraordinarily difficult financial circumstances is the basis of Tawra's frugal thinking.

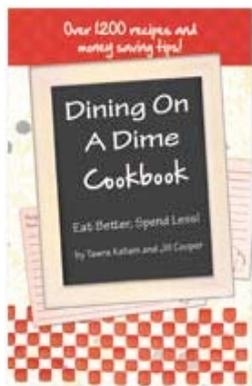

Tawra, her husband and 3 children live in Wichita, Kansas. In five years, they paid off $20,000 personal debt on an average income of $22,000 per year.

As a single mother of two, Jill Cooper started her own business without any capital and paid off $35,000 debt in 5 years on $1,000 a month income.

She then raised two teenagers alone on $500 a month income after becoming disabled with Chronic Fatigue Syndrome.

Need a little inspiration to save money, get out of debt and get your home in order?

You can cut your grocery budget without using coupons! Save money and get out of debt using the easy tips and techniques that thousands of other readers have already discovered in the Dining On A Dime cookbook!

Improve your life today! Check out the Dining On A Dime e-Book now at

<http://www.livingonadime.com/DiningOnADime>

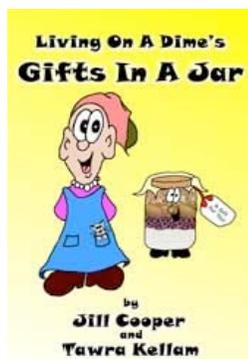

Keeping It Clean

This e-book series includes 3 e-books to help you conquer the laundry pile, get your house in order and reduce your stress with better organization.

Learn more at

<http://www.livingonadime.com/KeepingItClean>

Gifts In A Jar

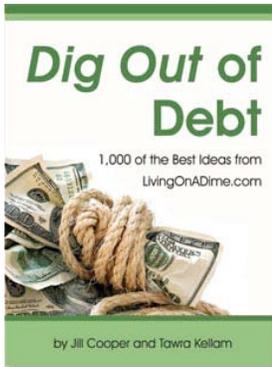

The "Gifts In A Jar" e-book shows you how to make all sorts of cool, yummy gifts that will save you money while endearing you to your friends for life! 😊

Gifts In A Jar features ideas to make delightful Gift Baskets like those in the expensive stores — everything from the Honeymoon Basket to the Get Well Basket at a fraction of the price!

Give personal gifts that they'll love, that you'll have fun making, and that won't add to the clutter in their lives!

<http://www.livingonadime.com/GiftsInAJar>

Dig Out Of Debt

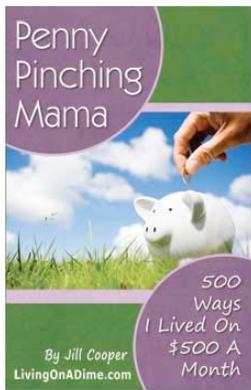

Ready to get out of debt for good? It is easier than you think!

Don't let your debt make you feel powerless anymore! Use these proven strategies to change your thinking and help you eliminate your debt once and for all!

<http://www.livingonadime.com/DigOutOfDebt>

Penny Pinching Mama: 500 Ways I Lived On $500 A Month

As a single mother of two, best selling author Jill Cooper started her own business without any capital and paid off $35,000 debt in 5 years on $1,000 a month income.

In her book she shares how she did it! This book is filled with practical, everyday ideas to help anyone stretch a small income.

<http://www.livingonadime.com/PennyPinchingMama>

Free "Five Simple Steps To Save $500 A Month On Your Grocery Budget" mini e-course!

Sign up for our Free Newsletter and get the e-course free! You'll receive tips for saving money and getting out of debt plus learn how to save over $7000 in one year when you sign up now at:

<http://www.livingonadime.com/newsletter-signups/>